Well planned tour and they give us good quality hotels and food. We enjoyed a lot. If we will plan for next tour...I must say Flamingo is my first choice.

Mr. Sujit Mangukiya

Initially we were apprehensive about the trip to the USA. We chose Flamingo Travels as we had already done 4 trips with them before this & found them to be best among the rest tour operators with whom we had traveled. Even our local friends in the USA were very appreciative of the way this trip was planned & some even commented that even the local operators could not have done a better. Our tour leader Vyoma deserves a special mention for her ability to remain cool and take instant decisions when something did not go according to plan. Everyone's food habits, entertainment for kids, airport check in, transit etc and need for rest rooms for the elderly were also well taken care off with personal attention.

What is AMERICA to me

THE HOUSE I LIVE IN

What is america to me
A name, a map, or a flag I see
A certain word, democracy
What is america to me

The house I live in
A plot of earth, a street
The grocer and the butcher
Or the people that I meet

The children in the playground
The faces that I see
All races and religions
That's america to me

The place I work in
The worker by my side
The little town the city
Where my people lived and died

The howdy and the handshake
The air a feeling free
And the right to speak your mind out
That's america to me

The things I see about me
The big things and the small
That little corner newsstand
Or the house a mile tall

The wedding and the churchyard
The laughter and the tears
And the dream that's been a growing
For more than two hundred years

The town I live in
The street, the house, the room
The pavement of the city
Or the garden all in bloom

The church the school the clubhouse
The millions lights I see
But especially the people
- yes especially the people
That's america to me

GREAT HISTORY

It is believed that before 30,000 years, the current Native Americans migrated from Asia & then settled in all of North America, they were the original habitants of America before the Europeans colonized it & they cultivated their own civilizations that lasted for thousands of years.

DISCOVERY OF AMERICA

1492: A young Spanish explorer named Christopher Columbus discovered the North American continent when he landed in the present day Puerto Rico. This discovery created immense trading opportunities in the new world. To capitalize on these opportunities various European powers like Spain, England, France & Netherlands etc. began sending explorers as well as religious missionaries to America.

EARLY SETTLEMENTS

1607: The first successful settlement in North America was established on the James River in Virginia & it was named Jamestown.

MAYFLOWER

1620: The first ship named 'MAYFLOWER' carrying English settlers most of whom were pilgrims landed in Plymouth & they established another colony. Most of these European powers started using the New World as a place to exile criminals & outlaws. So these lands were actually populated by outcasts & pilgrims that were looking for a better place to live.

As time passed colonization began to pace and soon the North American continent began playing a very integral role in the European economy due to its rich natural resources. The British autonomy existed on the East Coast; the French colonized the northern areas of America & parts of Canada. Spain had a stronghold over present states of California, New Mexico, and Miami etc.

The British also started levying taxes & imposing other legislations on these colonies. Owing to this the residents of the New World started revolting against this autocracy.

BOSTON TEA PARTY

1773: During one of the brawls between the civilians & the army, the soldiers killed 5 civilians and this event is known as the Boston massacre. Events like these fuelled the idea of revolution in the minds of the American people. As an answer to this, the famous incident of the Boston tea party took place in 1773, when a group of people barged into British ships that were loaded with tea & threw all of it into the sea. These events also inflicted a sense of nationalism & integration in the people that eventually led to the war of independence.

LIFE LIBERTY AND PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS

1776: The year of declaration of United States' independence when the 13 colonies under the British rule proclaimed in one voice that "Life, Liberty & the Pursuit of Happiness" are the rights of every human being and they will certainly not be denied to any American. This declaration was signed by the 6 founding fathers of America that included George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, Alexander Hamilton & John Adams ; on 4th of July at Philadelphia. This marked the beginning of the American war of independence under the leadership of George Washington, who later became the first president of free America.

BEGINNING OF DEMOCRACY

1789: George Washington became the first president of USA. The constitution was written and implemented from then onwards. James Madison has been called the father of the American constitution as he was responsible for its creation. Under the Washington cabinet, Alexander Hamilton was the treasury secretary & he established the Bank of United states to manage the financial system. Due to differences with him, Madison & Jefferson formed the Republican party to combat Hamilton's Federalist party.

Benjamin Franklin (1706-1790) was one of the Founding Fathers of the United States. He was a leading author, politician, and scientist. As a scientist, he was a major figure in the history of physics for his discoveries and theories regarding electricity. He formed both the first public lending library in America and the first fire department in Pennsylvania.

Thomas Jefferson (1743-1826) was the third President of the United States and the principal author of the Declaration of Independence. Jefferson was one of the most influential Founding Fathers, known for his promotion of the ideals of republicanism in the United States. He considered US to be an "Empire of Liberty" & laid stress on growth of an agricultural economy.

George Washington (1732-1799) was the dominant military and political leader of the new United States of America from 1775 to 1797, leading the American victory over Britain in the American Revolutionary War as commander in chief of the Continental Army, 1775-1783, and presiding over the writing of the Constitution in 1787.

THE LOUISIANA PURCHASE

1803: The Louisiana Purchase proved to be the most important incident of the Jefferson government. Under this a land area of 828,800 square miles comprising of 14 present-day US states that were under French control were purchased by USA in lieu of 11.25 Million USD in cash & 3.75 million USD of debt written off. After this deal the present day states like Missouri, Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas etc. became United States territory. After the completion of the deal, Napoleon marked: "This accession of territory affirms forever the power of the United States, and I have given England a maritime rival who sooner or later will humble her pride."

Owing to this purchase & the prevailing political system, the states were given autonomy in managing their affairs. This system is prevalent till date. A very powerful demarcation exists between the powers of state & federal government.

ABOLITION OF SLAVE TRADE

1808: The slave trade that prevailed between the African countries and the States was abolished. With this the issues of the Negro's came to the notice of the White Americans for the first time, as they could no longer reap the benefits of free labor.

BEGINNING OF THE CIVIL WAR

1860: Abraham Lincoln, a Republican presidential candidate who supported the idea of slave liberation came to power with just 40% of the votes in his favor. In the mean time the relations between the white Americans of North & South became strained as they started having differences on various issues like slavery. Finally after Lincoln got elected the 11 slave states of the south separated & formed the Confederate states of America. This marked the beginning of the Civil war.

Abraham Lincoln (1809-1865) served as the 16th President of the United States from March 1861 until his assassination in April 1865. He was a lawyer by profession and his life still stands as an inspiration to many. He signed the Emancipation proclamation that abolished slavery forever. He was assassinated while he was in a theatre by a Confederate spy named John Wilkes Booth.

NEW BIRTH OF FREEDOM

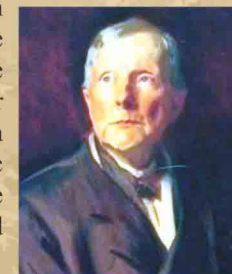

1861-65: The Civil war proved to be a ghastly conquest between the two forces. The confederate forces were led by General Robert E Lee whereas the Union forces were led by Ulysses S Grant. According to a survey, 8% of all males in the age group of 18 to 43 died in the war. This war finally changed course after the Battle of Gettysburg in which the confederate army faced a defeat. After the end of the war, Lincoln in his famous Gettysburg addresses redefined the war as a 'new birth of freedom' and proudly proclaimed that the "government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

ECONOMIC GROWTH

1880-1914: After the war & unification of USA, it prospered in all fields of industry, trade & commerce. Its Per capita income was second only to that of England. Industrialists like Andrew Carnegie in Steel & John D Rockefeller in Oil production were recognized as champions around the world.

Various innovations like the Airplane, Dynamite, Electric bulb, telephone etc. were driving the industrial growth and opening up new vistas for rapid expansion. One of the most important breakthrough was the construction of the Panama canal that completed in 1914. In the United States, the Western unexplored territory was being explored and civilized. The discovery of Gold on the Western Coast led to a migration to the West. The development of railroads was fuelled by this.

John D Rockefeller (1839-1937) was an American oil magnate, who revolutionized the petroleum industry and defined the structure of modern philanthropy. In 1870, he founded the Standard Oil Corporation. He was the main benefactor of the Rockefeller foundation that has a huge collection of objects of historical and aesthetic importance. It also contributed to the development of education and promoted scientific research.

Andrew Carnegie (1835-1919) was a Scottish-American industrialist, businessman, entrepreneur and a major philanthropist. He created the Carnegie Steel company that later transformed into the U.S Steel Corporation, the largest and the most profitable industrial enterprise in the world.

FIRST WORLD WAR

1914-1918: The First World War began in Europe. USA decided to give financial help to the allied powers that consisted of England & France. Till 1917 USA was never directly involved in the battle. But after the sinking of an American passenger ship named Lusitania by the German submarines, America formally entered the war in 1917. The Allied powers, USA, England & France won the war. At the end of the war, Germany was forced to sign the Versailles treaty, under which it agreed to pay a hefty sum as war damages to the allied powers.

THE ROARING TWENTIES

1920-28: This era is often called the Roaring twenties. After the war, USA soon started gaining importance on the economic, military & political landscape of the world. Mass production made technology affordable & new industries like automobiles, chemicals etc. skyrocketed. Newer inventions like Radio, moving pictures etc. changed the perspectives of popular thinking. Due to the increasing popularity of Jazz music, this period is also known as the Jazz age. This period of prosperity ended with the great depression.

Henry Ford (1863-1947) was a prominent American industrialist, the founder of the Ford Motor Company, and sponsor of the development of the assembly line technique of mass production. His introduction of the Model T automobile revolutionized transportation and American industry.

THE GREAT DEPRESSION

1928-33: The roaring twenties had resulted in unbalanced prosperity. As the industries prospered the agriculture sector suffered that led to income disparity. It was also characterized by a stock market bubble that ended with the crash of 1929. The unemployment increased to 25% during this time. Franklin Roosevelt, who had come to power implemented strong policies to regulate the banking & financial system. He suggested the industrialists to pay better wages to their workers as they were the consumers that kept the economy moving. Things got normal after 5 long years of poverty & distress.

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT (1882-1945) as the 32nd President of the United States and a central figure in world events during the mid-20th century, successfully leading the United States during a time of worldwide economic crisis and world war. He became the first American president to be elected for more than two terms from 1933 to 1945, due to the War emergency that the US was passing through. He has been considered the greatest war leaders of all times.

WORLD WAR-II

1941-45: The war that had already begun in Europe, reached America when Japan led a surprise attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7th 1941. This attack left the American Pacific fleet devastated and it was forced to fight on both fronts, in Europe as well as in the Pacific. General Eisenhower led the war in Europe whereas the pacific front was led by General Douglas McArthur. After facing a massive defeat, McArthur fled to Australia with a statement "I WILL RETURN". With a proper strategy, he again led the attack that drove the Japanese out of their captured lands and finally they were defeated but they did not surrender. They only surrendered after President Trumann dropped an atom bomb on the cities of Hiroshima & Nagasaki. In Europe, after an intense battle the Germans were finally defeated in the series of attacks following the attack on Normandy. Many Jews that had suffered due to the Anti-Semitic acts of Hitler were given refuge by the US. After the war, Europe was divided into two parts: East & the West. The Eastern part was controlled by the USSR whereas the West was under allied control. This sowed the seeds of the Cold War.

Walter Elias "Walt" Disney (1901-1960) was an American film producer, director, screenwriter, voice actor, animator, entrepreneur, entertainer, international icon, and philanthropist. Disney is famous for his influence in the field of entertainment during the 20th century. As the co-founder of Walt Disney Productions, Disney became one of the best-known motion picture producers in the world. Today, Walt Disney corp. is one of the largest enterprise in the world operating Theme resorts, Television networks etc.

COLD WAR

1950: When the Americans were expecting the shadow of war to vanish, a new conflict came up. This is popularly known as the Cold War, a power conflict between Soviet Union & USA. It began with the Korean War. At the end of the World War, Korea had been divided into two parts, such that the North was occupied by the Soviets whereas the South a free nation supported by the Allies. The Soviets attacked allied territory that retaliated in a very strong way with the help of American forces. This war proved to be threatening to the world as it aggravated the Cold War. Finally it ended in 1953 but only at a cost of thousands of American & Soviet soldiers.

Soviet Union developed its own nuclear weapon & as a result the threat of a nuclear war began to hover on the world. The world became bipolar & all countries were forced to join either USA or the Soviet Union.

John F Kennedy (1917-1963) was the 35th President of the United States, serving from 1961 until his assassination in 1963. He has been widely regarded and remembered for his diplomacy and decisions during the Cuban Missile crisis the midst of the Cold War. He once quoted "Ask not what your country can do for you but ask what you can do for your country". GREAT MUSIC-ARTS HOLLYWOOD

Music intertwines with aspects of American social and cultural identity, including through social class, race and ethnicity, geography, religion, language, gender and sexuality.

The relationship between music and race is perhaps the most potent determiner of musical meaning in the United States.

Music in the United States is divided into FOLK MUSIC, CLASSICAL MUSIC & POPULAR MUSIC with Blues and gospel, Jazz, Country music, R&B and soul, Rock, metal and punk, Hip hop, Other niche styles.

JAZZ

Jazz is a style of music that originated at the beginning of the 20th century in African American communities in the Southern United States from a confluence of African and European music traditions. The word "jazz" (in early years also spelled "jass") began as a West Coast slang term and was first used to refer to music in Chicago at about 1915. From its beginnings in the early 20th century jazz has spawned a variety of subgenres:

New Orleans Dixieland dating from the early 1910s, big band-style swing from the 1930s and 1940s, bebop from the mid-1940s, free jazz and a variety of Latin jazz fusions, such as Afro-Cuban, from the 1950s and 1960s, jazz fusion from the 1970s, acid jazz from the 1980s (which combines funk and hip-hop elements), and nu jazz in the 1990s. As the music has spread around the world it has drawn on local, national, and regional musical cultures, its aesthetics being adapted to its varied environments and giving rise to many distinctive styles.

COUNTRY MUSIC

Country music is a blend of traditional and popular musical forms traditionally found in the Southern United States and the Canadian Maritimes that evolved rapidly beginning in the 1920s. Distinctive variations of the genre have also emerged elsewhere including Australian country music. The term country music gained popularity in the 1940s when the earlier term hillbilly music came to be seen as denigrating. Country music was widely embraced in the 1970s, while country and Western has declined in use since that time, except in the United Kingdom and Ireland, where it is still commonly used.

ROCK MUSIC

Rock music is a genre of popular music that entered the mainstream in the 1960s. It has its roots in 1940s and 1950s rock and roll, rhythm and blues, country music and also drew on folk music, jazz and classical music. The sound of rock often revolves around the electric guitar, bass guitar, drums, and keyboard instruments such as Hammond organ, piano, or, since the late 60s, synthesizers.

He is often referred to as the "King of Rock and Roll" or simply "the King". Elvis' musical influences were the pop and country music of the time, the gospel music he heard in church and at the all-night gospel sings he frequently attended, and the black R&B he absorbed on historic Beale Street as a Memphis teenager. With a sound and style that uniquely combined his diverse musical influences and blurred and challenged the social and racial barriers of the time, he ushered in a whole new era of American music and popular culture.

Night, the original King Kong, and City Lights. Some very famous actors are: Humphrey Bogart, James Dean, Daniel Craig, Will Smith, Angelina Jolie, etc.

The cinema of the United States has had a profound effect on cinema across the world since the early 20th century. Its history is sometimes separated into four main periods: the silent film era, classical Hollywood cinema, New Hollywood, and the contemporary period (after 1980). Since the 1920s, the American film industry has grossed more money every year than that of any other country. American screen actors like John Wayne and Marilyn Monroe have become iconic figures, while producer/entrepreneur Walt Disney was a leader in both animated film and movie merchandising. The major film studios of Hollywood are the primary source of the most commercially successful movies in the world, such as Gone with the Wind (1939), Star Wars (1977), Titanic (1997), and Avatar (2009). Films from the Golden Age period that are now considered to be classics include The Wizard of Oz, Gone with the Wind, Casablanca, It's a Wonderful Life, It Happened One

ARTS & LITERATURE

During its early history, America was a series of British colonies on the eastern coast of the present-day United States. Therefore, its artistic and literary tradition begins strongly linked to the broader tradition of English (especially British) art and literature. However, the many American Movements have helped shaped American art and literature to have its own unique characteristics and it is now considered a separate path and tradition, which covers a huge range of styles. Some of the notable literary artists are Mark Twain, Walt Whitman, Ernest Hemingway, T.S.Eliot, H.G. Wells, Robert Frost, Dorothy Parker, Scott Fitzgerald, and many others.

GEOGRAPHY OF USA

The United States is a country in the Western Hemisphere. It consists of forty-eight contiguous states in North America, Alaska, a peninsula which forms the northwestern most part of North America, and Hawaii, an archipelago in the Pacific Ocean. There are several United States territories in the Pacific and Caribbean. The term "United States", when used in the geographical sense, means the continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands of the United States. The country shares land borders with Canada and Mexico and maritime (water) borders with Russia, Cuba, and The Bahamas.

EASTERN USA

The East Coast of the United States, also known as the Eastern Seaboard, refers to the easternmost coastal states in the United States, which touch the Atlantic Ocean and stretch up to Canada. The term includes the U.S. states of (from north to south): Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida.

Much of Florida is situated on a peninsula between the Gulf of Mexico, the Atlantic Ocean, and the Straits of Florida. Its geography is marked by a coastline, by the omnipresence of water and the threat of hurricanes. Florida has the longest coastline in the contiguous United States, encompassing approximately 1,350 miles (2,170 km), and is the only state to border both the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean.

APPALACHIAN MOUNTAINS

The Appalachian Mountains form a line of low mountains separating the eastern seaboard from the Great Lakes and the Mississippi Basin. The range is mostly located in the United States but extends into southeastern Canada.

THE GREAT LAKES

The Great Lakes are a collection of freshwater lakes located in northeastern North America, on the —Canada United States border. Consisting of Lakes Superior, Michigan, Huron, Erie, and Ontario, they form the largest group of freshwater lakes on Earth by total surface, coming in second by volume behind Baikal in Russia.

West of the Appalachians lies the Mississippi River basin and two large eastern tributaries, the Ohio River and the Tennessee River. The Ohio and Tennessee Valleys and the Midwest consist largely of rolling hills and productive farmland, stretching south to the Gulf Coast.

THE RIVERS

The Mississippi River is the largest river system in North America. Flowing entirely in the United States, this river rises in western Minnesota and meanders slowly southwards for 2,320 miles (3,730 km) to the Mississippi River Delta at the Gulf of Mexico. With its many tributaries, the Mississippi's watershed drains all or parts of 31 U.S. states between the Rocky and Appalachian Mountains and even reaches into southern Canada. The Mississippi ranks fourth longest and tenth largest among the world's rivers.

The Missouri River, a tributary of the Mississippi, flows from its headwaters in the Rocky Mountains eastward across the Great Plains, a vast grassy plateau, before sloping gradually down to the forests and hence to the Mississippi.

THE GREAT PLAINS

The Great Plains are a broad expanse of flat land, much of it covered in prairie, steppe and grassland, which lies west of the Mississippi River and east of the Rocky Mountains in the United States and Canada. This area covers parts of the U.S. states of Colorado, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, and Wyoming, and the Canadian provinces of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

CENTRAL USA

THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS

The Rocky Mountain lies to the West of the Great Plains. The Rockies are hundreds of miles wide, and run uninterrupted from New Mexico to Alaska. The Rocky Mountain Region is the highest overall area of the United States, with an average elevation of above 4,000 feet. The tallest peaks of the Rockies, 54 of which are over 14,000 feet (4,250 meters approx.), are found in central and western Colorado.

THE PLATEAUS

West of the Rocky Mountains lies the Intermontane Plateaus (also known as the Intermountain West), a large, arid desert lying between the Rockies and the Cascades and Sierra Nevada ranges. The large southern portion, known as the Great Basin, consists of salt flats, drainage basins, and many small north-south mountain ranges. The Southwest is predominantly a low-lying desert region. A portion known as the Colorado Plateau, centered around the Four Corners region, is considered to have some of the most spectacular scenery in the world. It is accentuated in such national parks as Grand Canyon, Arches, Mesa Verde National Park and Bryce Canyon, among others.

COLORADO RIVER

The Colorado River, is a river in the Southwestern United States and northwestern Mexico, approximately 2,330 kilometers (1,450 mi) long, draining a part of the arid regions on the western slope of the Rocky Mountains. The Colorado River snakes through the Mountain states, at one point forming the Grand Canyon. The Colorado is a major source of water in the Southwest and many dams, such as the Hoover Dam, form reservoirs along it. So much water is drawn for drinking water throughout the West and irrigation in California that in some years, water from the Colorado no longer reaches the Gulf of California.

DRY REGION

Further travelling West to the Rockies is the Dry Region. Dry areas encompass much of Nevada, Utah and Arizona. The Mojave Desert and Sonoran Desert along with other deserts are found here.

THE GRAND CANYON

The Grand Canyon is a steep-sided canyon carved by the Colorado River in the United States in the state of Arizona. It is largely contained within the Grand Canyon National Park, the 15th national park in the United States. The Grand Canyon is 277 miles (446 km) long, up to 18 miles (29 km) wide and attains a depth of over a mile (6,000 feet / 1,800 metres) Nearly two billion years of the Earth's geological history have been exposed as the Colorado River and its tributaries cut their channels through layer after layer of rock while the Colorado Plateau was uplifted

WESTERN USA

The Western United States commonly referred to as the American West or simply "the West," traditionally refers to the region comprising the westernmost states.

THE CASCADE RANGE

The Cascade Range (or Cascades) is a major mountain range of western North America, extending from southern British Columbia through Washington and Oregon to Northern California. It includes both non-volcanic mountains, such as the North Cascades, and the notable volcanoes known as the High Cascades. The Cascades are part of the Pacific Ring of Fire, the ring of volcanoes and associated mountains around the Pacific Ocean. All of the known historic eruptions in the contiguous United States have been from Cascade volcanoes.

THE SIERRA NEVADA MOUNTAIN RANGE(CALIFORNIA)

This mountain range the California Central Valley and the Basin and Range Province. The Sierra runs 400 miles (640 km) north-to-south, and is approximately 70 miles (110 km) across east-to-west. Notable Sierra features include Lake Tahoe, the largest alpine lake in North America; Mount Whitney at 14,505 feet (4,421 m), the highest point in the contiguous United States; and Yosemite Valley sculpted by glaciers out of 100-million-year-old granite. The Sierra is home to three national parks, 20 wilderness areas, and two national monuments. These areas include Yosemite, Sequoia and Kings Canyon National Parks.

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK(CALIFORNIA)

Designated a World Heritage Site in 1984, Yosemite is internationally recognized for its spectacular granite cliffs, waterfalls, clear streams, Giant Sequoia groves, and biological diversity. Almost 95% of the park is designated wilderness. The geology of the Yosemite area is characterized by granitic rocks and remnants of older rock. About 10 million years ago, the Sierra Nevada was uplifted and then tilted to form its relatively gentle western slopes and the more dramatic eastern slopes. The uplift increased the steepness of stream and river beds, resulting in formation of deep, narrow canyons. About 1 million years ago, snow and ice accumulated, forming glaciers at the higher alpine meadows that moved down the river valleys. Ice thickness in Yosemite Valley may have reached 4,000 feet (1,200 m) during the early glacial episode.

MOUNT RAINIER (WASHINGTON)

Mount Rainier is circled by the Wonderland Trail and is covered by several glaciers and snowfields totaling some 35 square miles (91 km²). Carbon Glacier is the largest glacier by volume in the continental United States, while Emmons Glacier is the largest glacier by area. About 1.3 million people visit Mount Rainier National Park each year. Mount Rainier is a popular peak for mountain climbing with some 10,000 attempts per year with approximately 25% making it to the summit.

ALASKA AND HAWAII

Alaska contains some of the most dramatic and untapped scenery in the country. Tall, prominent mountain ranges rise up sharply from broad, flat tundra plains. On the islands off the south and southwest coast are many volcanoes. Hawaii, far to the south of Alaska in the Pacific Ocean, is a chain of tropical, volcanic islands, popular as a tourist destination for many from East Asia and the mainland United States.

THE NATIONAL PARKS – AMERICA'S GREATEST TREASURE

In 1872, by an act of Congress, Yellowstone National Park was created in order to "protect the scenery, natural and historic objects and wildlife for the enjoyment of current and future generations". Since then, another 57 Parks have been included to be cared for under the umbrella of the National Park Service.

There are parks throughout the continental U.S. as well as in Alaska, Hawaii, American Samoa, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. The most visited park is Great Smoky National Park followed by Grand Canyon National Park. Whether you like the forest, the desert, the mountains or the ocean, there is something for everyone. Many parks are wheelchair friendly and they all offer suggestions for outdoor activities as well as kid-friendly activities.

As you scroll through some of the Parks below, you will be amazed by their diversity. Enjoy!

ACADIA NATIONAL PARK

The first National Park east of the Mississippi, Acadia National Park is also one of the most diverse. The Park covers most of Mount Desert Island as well as a few other islands and includes the highest mountain on the Atlantic Coast, Cadillac Mountain. Visitors today can enjoy an array of different activities including walks, mountain hikes, bike rides, boat cruises as well as seashore exploration.

BRYCE CANYON NATIONAL PARK (UTAH)

People come from around the world to see the famous "hoodoo formations" formed when ice and rainwater wear away the weak limestone. To see the hoodoos at sunrise or sunset is a awe inspiring site. The canyon is particularly beautiful in the winter when the white snow contrasts with the red rocks.

CAPITOL REEF (UTAH)

Capitol Reef National Park is characterized by sandstone formations, cliffs and canyons, and a 100-mile long bulge in the earth's crust called the Water Pocket Fold. Erosion has carved the rock into marvelous shapes.

DEATH VALLEY NATIONAL PARK (CALIFORNIA)

The hottest, driest and lowest place in North America, these descriptions does not always seem inviting but Death Valley is a magical place. Rolling sand dunes, volcanic formations, amazing vistas, amazing wildflowers and Joshua trees are all there for visiting. Don't miss the wonderful visitor center that does an amazing job of explaining how over 1000 types of plants and hundred types of animals have adapted to this harsh environment.

EVERGLADES NATIONAL PARK (FLORIDA)

The park is charged with the protection of 36 endangered species including the Florida panther, the American crocodile as well as the West Indian manatee. The Park is a birder's paradise as it is home to over 350 species of birds, including waders, land and birds of prey. Our recommendation is to explore the park by canoe. Trails are marked but a guide can enhance your experience. Ranger led tours can last from a few hours to several days including camping.

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK (MONTANA)

Glacier National Park, along with its sister park, Waterton Lakes in Canada make up the International Peace Park. Running through the parks is the Great Continental Divide. The area is one of great natural beauty, including waterfalls, alpine terrain and glaciers. One of the highlights of the Park is the Going-to-the-Sun Road, a National Historic Landmark. The road runs for 50-miles between St. Mary's and West Glacier. Along the way keep your eyes open for the amazing glaciers and wildlife including mountain goats, bighorn sheep and grizzly bears.

GRAND CANYON NATIONAL PARK (CALIFORNIA)

The numbers are amazing, 277-miles in length, 1-mile in depth, up to 15-miles across but the experience is awesome. Standing on the edge of the canyon, looking down at the Colorado River and across at the multi-colored layers of rock across is for many a very emotional experience. Most people visit the South Rim which is open year round and has a greater number of accommodations than the North Rim across the Canyon, which is a 1000- ft higher and closed for a good park of winter.

GREAT SMOKY NATIONAL PARK (TENNESSEE)

The most visited park in the United States is home to 5000 species of plants, 125 species of trees, 200 species of birds and 27 species of salamanders as well as the largest stand of old-growth forest in the eastern United States. The Park is a hikers paradise with 800 miles of trails, 70 of those being part of the Appalachian trail.

MESA VERDE NATIONAL PARK (COLORADA)

The archeological sites found in Mesa Verde are some of the most notable and best preserved in the United States. Mesa Verde National Park offers visitors a spectacular look into the lives of the Ancestral Pueblo people who lived in the area from approximately A.D. 600 to A.D. 1300. Here they built stone villages built into the canyon walls which are in excellent condition considering their age. Make sure to schedule a ranger-led tour to Cliff Palace or Balcony House, or try the self-guided walking tour to Spruce Tree House.

SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK (CALIFORNIA)

The park is best known for being home to the Giant Sequoias. These trees are the largest in the world and the park is filled with groves of these living giants that can be accessed very easily. The park is also known for its great beauty. Located in the Sierra Nevada Mountain Range, the park is home to majestic mountains, meandering creeks and an abundant wildlife.

SHENANDOAH NATIONAL PARK (VIRGINIA)

.Shenandoah is a wildlife paradise with over 500 miles of trails leading to waterfalls, vistas and the quiet woods filled with deer, black bears, wild turkeys and many other animals. The park runs along the top of the spine of the Blue Ridge Mountains for 105-miles. The byway contains over 75 overlooks which are especially breath taking in the fall when the leaves turn. For a special treat, stop in at the historic Skyland Lodge for a meal and make sure to taste their Blackberry Ice Cream Pie, the house specialty

ZION NATIONAL PARK (UTAH)

There are many reasons to explain why Zion National Park is Utah's most visited park. First of all, it is an easy and beautiful 3 hour drive from Las Vegas. Secondly, there is something for everyone to do, from strenuous hiking to leisurely strolls through the canyon that are wheelchair and stroller adaptable. Lastly, the amazing beauty of the granite formations that create the walls of the canyon that the Virgin River flows through. Since the inception of the Shuttle service in 2000, the canyon has become an incredibly quite place.

DENALI NATIONAL PARK (ALASKA)

Denali National Park and Preserve encompasses 6 million acres of Alaska's interior wilderness. Its centerpiece is 20,237-ft.-high Denali (Mount McKinley), North America's tallest peak. With terrain of tundra, spruce forest and glaciers, the park is home to wildlife including grizzly bears, wolves, moose, caribou. Popular means of exploration are biking, backpacking and hiking, on maintained trails or in backcountry.

Yellowstone features dramatic canyons, alpine rivers, lush forests, hot springs and gushing geysers, including its most famous, Old Faithful. It's also home to hundreds of animal species, including bears, wolves, bison, elk and antelope.

HOW TO CHOOSE YOUR HOLIDAY?

EXPECTATIONS

Please ask yourself and your family some simple questions:

- Do you want a sightseeing vacation where you want to explore new places, see new attractions and meet new people??
- Are you ready to have active holiday where in you will be doing sightseeings for full days in most of your holiday??
- Are you ready to wake up early in order to do the most of the sightseeings or excursion trip you are doing?
- Are you ready to follow the time schedule religiously in order to cover maximum possible sights in depth.

• If yes to above you may choose USA, Europe, Singapore, Hongkong, China etc.

• Or if you have an idea of a perfect vacation where in you:

- Just want to relax.
- Spend time with your family and be close to them and stay away from the world.
- Do not intend to do much sightseeing and exploration of the destination.
- If yes than exotic islands, luxury resorts, cruises and destinations like Mauritius, Maldives Sri Lanka, Bintan, Bali and Langkawi are some of the examples to choose from for your holiday.

We work hard in our profession for long so we all need vacation and days off so that we can spend time with our family, see the world and relax. Every individual have different perception of their perfect holiday. Some may opt for adventure activities while others want to pamper themselves with world's most exotic spa or massages while others want to just relax and laze around. Vacations are important to us and our families, be it a small break or a month long tour. We want them to be the best and most enjoyable.

We have constraint of budget and time, but inspite of that we want our holidays to be the most memorable ones.

The most important question is how to choose a vacation that suits you?

INTEREST

- History and architecture?
- Explore untouched scenic beauty?
- Adventure and excitement?
- Beaches or water activities?
- Enjoy wildlife?

Basically, it will vary from country to country and many can cater to many different interests. But some countries like Egypt and Europe have a lot of history and architecture, while countries like Australia and New Zealand offer great adventure and Kenya offers great wildlife and so on. It will be of great help to yourself, if you plan your vacation keeping in mind your own interest.

BUDGET

This is the most important. Please do not keep it so less that you compromise on hotels, sightseeing, meals etc. For a few thousand rupees you miss something very important. At the same time please do not overstretch your budget that it pinches you during your lour, where you have gone there to enjoy, relax & not to worry about the money you have spent.

TIME

It is always better to see one destination in a full day than to see many destinations partly. So the number of days available to you should be such that it can do justice to the destination you are visiting.

SEASON

Check the climate & season, whether it suits your body & temperament. This is also important & never neglect it.

ANALYSE

Any tour or vacation is composed of following five elements.

- Transportation (includes - air, coach, train etc.)
- Sightseeing
- Hotels
- Food
- Guide

Before deciding the tour, please do an in-depth analysis and understanding of above five elements. It may not be possible that you will get all the best of above, but within the restriction of your number of days or departure dates or most importantly your budget, you have to decide the tour with clear understanding & consideration for above.

WAYS OF TRAVEL

Flamingo has developed a Holidays Matrix which can help you in deciding your vacation. Please ask our team member to show you Holidays Matrix.

There are two ways of travelling.

- With escorted group tours
- On free individual basis

We have tried to give the pros and cons which can help you decide the option you would like to choose.

ESCORTED GROUP TOURS:

ADVANTAGES:

- You are traveling in a group of Indians or many a times gujarati's, so you feel more safe, secured & carefree.
- Tour is well planned in which we try to include many possible sightseeing.
- You do not need to worry about planning next day or what to do during your free time.
- Due to identical nature of co- passengers, you will make lot of friends, and most of the times it's a family atmosphere.
- Meals are taken care of in group tour and most meals will be Indian/ vegetarian.
- Normally it's a value for money, all including tour package: you can know exactly what budget will be required before the tour starts.

DISADVANTAGES:

- You will have to strictly follow the timings keeping in mind comfort of your co-passengers and inclusions in the itinerary.
- Itinerary, timings, pace of the tour are all decided by keeping general interest in mind. We sincerely regret if you have specific interest or requirement, it will not be honored or followed before or on the tour even if you are a group of 15 or 20 persons traveling together, as all the services are pre decided and pre booked.
- As USA tours include maximum sightseeing in minimum days, the pace of the tour is very fast and fixed time is given to each sightseeing at each place. On the tour there will be days when you will have early wake ups and good amount of hours travelling by coach at most places.
- The hotels are pre-decided by a tour operator keeping in mind overall comfort, price and convenience. Individual passengers lifestyle and specific likings are not given preference or consideration here.

- In case of any delays due to illness or any unforeseen circumstances which are beyond our control, in that case we request all co-passengers to cooperate.
- Be friendly with your co-passengers because in case if you have dispute with your co-passenger, then also you are with them throughout the tour.

POINTS TO BE NOTED FOR
USA

ESCORTED GROUP TOURS DISTANCES AND JOURNEYS

As the USA tours are done by coach at most places and flights at some places, touring long distance is really unavoidable especially traveling from city to city. One has to sit in coach for a good amount of time and possibly many days will include long travel depending on the itinerary you choose. Though coaches are comfortable and air conditioned one has to be mentally and physically ready for it.

COACH AND COACH CAPTAIN

It is 'strictly' not allowed to eat, drink or smoke inside the coach. Coach captains are bound by laws & restrictions about driving hours per day and per week. All itineraries are planned as per that. Therefore it is absolutely essential for passengers to follow the time schedule very strictly. In some coaches emergency washroom is available. Keeping in mind hygiene standards it can be used only in case of emergency. We try to make sufficient stops to ensure comforts of our passengers. Seating in coach will be on first come first serve basis.

TOUR MANAGERS AND LOCAL GUIDES:

In most cases, passengers will meet the tour manager directly at the destination and will not be accompanied by the Tour manager on their air travel to/from home. Tour managers reserve a right to do minor changes in the itinerary for the benefit of the passengers and to ensure that the tour runs smoothly. These changes are usually due to unexpected delays which often occur. On occasions it may be the case the tour manager will be changed while on the tour which usually due to operational reasons.

BAGGAGE

On the tour, luggage allowance in the coach will be 1 cabin bag 1 hand bag per person. For main flights one bag of 23 kgs is allowed to carry along with one 7 kgs cabin bag. For internal flights within USA, the baggage allowance is nil. Passengers have to pay for every bag they check in at the airport. The cost of the check in bag will vary depending on airline.

PORTERAGE

Porterage in any of tours is not included. It will be passengers responsibility to carry their bags to and from coach and their room & other places.

VISAS

The most important point for USA & Canada tours is visas. Please note that granting of visas is absolutely in the hands of concerned consulates. Flamingo cannot do anything in this matter. Visa requirements vary between country to country & time taken by the consulates is based on public holidays, peak season work for the consulate staff. It also depends on case to case basis. Please clearly note that obtaining visas on time is totally between the customers & consulates. Flamingo cannot do anything in this regard, it is acting merely as a submitting agent. Another most important point is, as a tour operator we have to book all the services before one gets visas, so there will be cancellation for the same, in case, you may not be granted the visas or there is a delay in the visas. We kindly request you may kindly read the booking and cancellation procedures very carefully before booking the tour.

Please note that consulate do call for some additional documents over and above the normal visa requirements. Many times passengers are required to go in person for a personal interview if asked by a consulate and/or for biometrics. Consulates are situated in Mumbai or Delhi or any other cities. Please note that passengers will have to go on own and the expenses will be bear by them.
